

Not Two Mayors.

It was reported yesterday that Mayor-elect Davie had been duly qualified to take his seat before the term of office of Mayor Pardee had expired. The story arose through an error made by the latter in affixing his signature to the bond of the incoming Chief Executive. The charter provides that the bonds of all city officials, save the Mayor, must be approved by the Mayor and the City Attorney. To the City Treasurer, in conjunction with the City Attorney, is left the duty of approving the Mayor's bond. Mayor-elect Davie filed his bond, with George L. Fish and C. W. Hunt as sureties. The bond reached Mayor Pardee, together with a number of other bonds. The Mayor discovered his error, corrected it, and turned the bond over to City Treasurer Giipin, who now has it. There was no danger that Oakland would be provided with two Mayors at one sitting. It has developed, however, that the charter provides no specific time for the commencement of the term of office for Mayor. Custom has fixed the first Monday in April as the date. After the two years' term has expired the charter declares that the incumbent shall hold until the successor has been duly qualified.

Enthusiastic Athletic Meeting.

At no time in years has college spirit run so high or so much interest been shown in purely college affairs as was displayed at the athletic meeting yesterday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to devise ways and means for sending an athletic team East to compete with Pennsylvania, Yale, Harvard and Princeton in track athletics.

Students were excused from all recitations after 2:50. The meeting was addressed by Colonel Edwards, Professor Clapp, Captain Koch, Manager North and others and it was unanimously carried amid loud rounds of cheers to send a track team East.

A loan of $1000 was asked from the student body and in less than fifteen minutes $900 was subscribed. Heretofore the question of sending a team across the continent was an uncertainty, but now it is an assured thing.

The ladies of the Ebell Society gave a breakfast yesterday in honor of Mrs. Dr. Myra Knox, who has the proud distinction of being the first woman elected to the Board of Education in Oakland. Miss Mollie Connors of the Oakland High School made the opening remarks. She was followed by Mrs. L. R. Griffin, Mrs. K. B. Fisher, Mrs. Dubois, Miss Horton, Mrs. E. A. Wilson and the guest. Very appropriate addresses were made. It was the consensus of opinion that the public schools required lady directors.

Never insult a milkman by asking him what watering-place he is going to this summer.

University.

The university has received a communication from Edward S. Holden giving the reason why instruction in astronomy is not being given to the undergraduate students in the colleges at Berkeley. The plan of giving instruction at Berkeley was advocated by him in 1887, and the reason why it did not prevail was because President Davis did not think the plan wise.

A statement as to the cost of maintaining the observatory at Mount Hamilton compared with the expenses of keeping up the observatories of Greenwich, Harvard College and Paris shows that they require about $30,000 more annually than the Lick.

A statement covering the work done by the department outside the mere instruction shows that within the last seven years 40,000 visitors have been received, many lectures have been given before general audiences, eight books have been published and distributed from the observatory and 750 communications have been made to scientific journals and magazines.

Professor Holden thought that if any change was to be made by the regents with regard to giving lectures in Berkeley it should be so made as to interfere as little as possible with their work at the observatory.

The Loring Farewell

Stiles Hall was crowded last evening with the pupils of the David Loring Choral Society, and a number of their friends, to have a farewell reading of music with Mr. Loring, who leaves shortly for Japan.

A score, which was interspersed with solos, was sung through by the members of the society.

During the evening a set of resolutions were read and adopted and ordered engrossed and presented to Mr. Loring.

A few moments afterward another member presented Mr. Loring with a solid silver card, upon which the resolutions passed a few minutes before were engrossed.

Mr. Loring responded in a very feeling manner, and concluded by saying that he could wield the baton much better than he could talk.

At the close of the concert the pupils gathered around Mr. Loring and bade him farewell, and tendered the hope that he would realize all he expected in his new home in the land of the Mikado.

It Paid Them.

A wholesale grocery merchant was asked to advertise, but said it did not pay, as he sold goods through drummers altogether. A new retail merchant in the country wanted to buy a certain brand of soda he had read about, but the house he purchased his stock from did not have it, and he had to take "something just as good." In the next issue of his town paper the country merchant read a news item which stated that the grocer who sold through drummers only had just bought four car loads of the very kind of soda he had wanted all the time. He wrote the grocer a card explaining the circumstances and giving an order for some of the soda. The merchant who thought advertising did not pay is forming the habit.

A druggist, who was ante bellum in business as well as politics, had his shelves filled with old styled bottles and considered money "thrown away" when used to advertise with. An invalid lady passing through his town desired a certain kind of patent medicine which was much "out of date," as it had not been advertised for years. After failing to get the article at all the other stores she was told to go around to the place of "old pill box." She did so, and in the cellar, covered with an inch of dust, the medicine was found. The sale pleased the merchant greatly and he wanted to get rid of more "old stuff." He succeeded in getting a local in his paper, which was paid for in trade, and soon had several calls for the same kind of medicine. He had an increase of business and grew joyful, but had to form the advertising habit. He is today a partner in a prosperous jobbing house.—Printers Ink.

New Greek Letter Fraternity.

A chapter of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity made its existence publicly known yesterday afternoon. The charter membership is composed of H. J. Sherer '95, R. H. Turner '95, Charles Oldenberg '96, Louis Hilborn '96, Melville Dozier '98. The fraternity has been in existence since the 22d inst.

The original chapter of the fraternity was organized some years ago at the University of Virginia. There are only three chapters in the fraternity, the one at Berkeley being the only one west of the Rockies. There are two national fraternities by the name of Kappa Alpha, but this one is known as the "Southern Fraternity," having been founded in Virginia.

The new chapter has taken a hall on Bancroft way, near Audubon street. This makes the third fraternity organized in Berkeley since the beginning of the fall term.

What Next?

The following dispatch was received in San Francisco from Lexington, Nebraska, yesterday:

"The citizens of this town are worked up over the election of city officers. Sam Woi Tai, a Chinese, is the dark horse for Mayor, with a petition signed by fifty citizens and business men. Although the City Clerk threw the petition out, the voters say they will write Sam's name on the ticket. Sam Woi Tai says he will run everything wide open, but will fine every person who does wrong, and use the proceeds to build an opera-house."

EVERYTHING NOW READY.

Governor Budd yesterday affixed his signature to the bill allowing the Harbor Commissioners to lease certain portions of the water front in San Francisco to the San Joaquin Valley and San Francisco Railway Company. This was the final link that had to be forged before operations on the new road could be commenced. From this time forth work will be actually prosecuted and a large number of men will be given work in building wharves and in filling in the lands just leased by the State. The surveying outfit will be sent out at once to select the route over which the road will run, and just as soon as this is finished the actual work of grading and laying track will be commenced, as by that time the contractors who were recently awarded contracts for supplying the rails, ties, etc., will have their material on the ground and thousands of men will be put to work, and good times will come once more to California, and the grip of the Octopus will have relaxed considerably. The people of the State are in earnest in their efforts to assist the new road both by money and by patronage and by right of way, and when the first train is run over the road the people of the whole State will declare the day a holiday and celebrate the event in a proper manner. In this connection the offer of the Examiner is worthy of emulation by others who can well afford to assist. The Examiner offers to subscribe $1000 for every $10,000 worth of stock that is subscribed through the Examiner office and is now issuing coupons setting forth its offer for the use of the people.

M. H. DE YOUNG, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle has announced his intention of starting in a few days on a trip around the world in order to obtain a much needed rest and to learn more about the countries which he publishes telegrams in his paper from every day in the week. He announces that during his absence he will be constantly upon the outlook for curios for the Park Museum, and he expects to find many of them during his trip. It is said that every man has his hobby, and Mr. de Young's is the Park Museum, and it is well for the people of San Francisco and California generally that he has made the museum his hobby, for he is wealthy and can afford to buy many things which otherwise might never come to the museum. He has also excellent taste and good judgment, and we look for a fine collection upon his return from abroad.

Now is the time for candidates to get their announcements before the people, and very best medium is through the columns of the GAZETTE the bright and wide awake paper of Berkeley.

The list of delegates to the citizens and Taxpayers convention appear in another column of today's paper. It will be seen by a comparison of the names of delegates to both convention that in nearly every instance representative citizens have been chosen. This means that first class nominees will be selected by both conventions and that in the case of either ticket being elected at the polls, Berkeley will be sure of good government.

The Inquest.

Last evening at 5:30 o'clock Coroner Baldwin held an inquest upon the body of Pedro Unda, who was killed on Monday by falling from his wagon.

The Coroner summoned the following jurors:

W. A. Nash, Charles Hamilton, Thos. Handerken, Myrtle Curtis, Ed. Brennen, A. Blumberg and Thos. Farrell.

Peter Unda, a son of the deceased was the first witness called. He stated that he last saw his father alive on the evening of March 25th, when he passed away. He stated that the deceased was a native of Chili and that he was 76 years of age; he knew nothing personally about the cause of his death.

W. J. Curtis, who was with the deceased at the time of his death, testified that he had just loaded on four bales of hay on the wagon and had tied them on and turned around to close the barn door when the horses started to run away; they had run about fifty yards when one of the lines parted and the deceased pulling on the other line cramped the wagon throwing the deceased on his head to the pavement.

Mr. Curtis at once went to his assistance and asked him whether he was hurt but received no answer as the deceased was unconscious; he then placed him on a wagon and took him to his home.

Dr. A. De Marconnay was next called. He stated that he had attended the deceased and when called in he found him suffering from a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain and a hemorrhage of the ear, which caused his death.

The jury then brought in a verdict in accordance with the above facts.
